

The products of Cà dei Fiori bear the mark "Rocca dei Fiori" and include: culinary and medicinal herbs and herbal teas. As well as our complete range of herbs, you can also find our range of aromatic herb salts, all of which are produced and packaged individually on site. Rocca dei Fiori, not only sells teas singularly but also in blends designed for purifying and soothing, these teas also contain the unexpected, such as the petals from sunflowers or cornflowers, or the fruits of blackcurrant or from the Cornel tree. The only products not grown by Cà dei Fiori and associated companies are the spices from organic farms in Africa and from East Asia (South India, Tanzania, Vietnam, Reunion Island), these are imported and packaged here in glass jars of 30-40 grams. Finally, the vegetable stock powder is perhaps the synthesis of the atmosphere of this company: rich in herbs it is the result of a balance between research and maintaining the integrity of quality. Perhaps because of this, Rocca dei Fiori products retain all of their aroma and flavour.

Cà dei Fiori is located at 800 meters altitude in the Apennines Toscoemiliano the border of the Natural Park of the Corno alle Scale.

The first experience that greets you is smell: the mixture of aromas of grass, wood and plants. At first glance it looks like the farms of old, but alongside the traditional and antique atmosphere we also find its functionality has been designed and studied in every detail.

Cà dei Fiori was born from a long held dream, a dream that was to be built from the earth, trees and plants, as a celebration of man and nature. It materialized in 1982, from the efforts of three young foreigners in love with the natural beauty and majesty of this mountainous zone.

After years of testing, research and attempts at cultivation, the business began to stabilize with dozens of species of herbs, and began to market its products in 1986.

Today the company serves more than 500 stores that sell natural products, and exports 50% of its products.

The company occupies 28 acres of land, including woods, areas for wild harvesting, fields planted with herbs and acres reserved for crop rotation.

Cà dei Fiori is in fact one of the first Italian companies to use a method of growing plants, semi-spontaneous and spontaneous, integrated into the more traditional system of agriculture, so that their viability and properties are strengthened.

The company collects and uses plants that grow naturally, it facilitates the growth and reproduction through indirect techniques attentive to environmental balance, fostering biodiversity in its cultivation practices.

From 1982 to today, for example, the number of bird species that nest in the farm has grown to 62.

The Biodynamic method used in Cà dei Fiori adds to the system of organic farming the idea of cosmic cycles and the use of specific compost preparations.

The main purpose for the choice in the cultivation methods and processing is to maintain all the properties of the plant. By necessity this also means that it is worked by hand and sieved with the utmost care. The herbs are first cut and then dried using air heated by a solar panel system, then using special machines to separate, clean and shred the product, we are finally able to package them in bags or glass jars.

Ca dei Fiori is very attentive to nature. This pricelist is printed on recycled from Danish paper, the production process only uses cellulose fibre made entirely from recycled and recovered materials. Not only this, the entire production process takes place in full respect for the environment. In fact, the energy comes from a power plant fuelled by natural gas and the water discharged is so pure that it can be used in breeding trout.
